For participation in a multidisciplinary co-creative workshop on business modelling for flourishing futures. During the workshop, the Flourishing Business Canvas was used. The canvas is one of the latest tools for business modelling, fully considering the social, environmental and economic aspects.

The workshop is a part of a knowledge mobilization initiative of a global community of practice and research - 'Community for Flourishing Enterprise' and 'Flourishing Enterprise Institute'.

Researchers from Halmstad University are part of this community and also first explorers of the Flourishing Business Canvas.
